```
node5_JFSFILE_/mnt/disk6 <= 0.659
                           samples = 100.0\%
                  value = [0.251, 0.251, 0.248, 0.25]
                         class = cpu_contention
                                              False
                   True
                                       node7_VM_nr_mapped <= 0.69
        samples = 25.1\%
                                               samples = 74.9\%
value = [0.003, 0.0, 0.002, 0.995]
                                       value = [0.334, 0.335, 0.331, 0.0]
        class = input_rate
                                                class = normal
                            samples = 49.5\%
                                                                  samples = 25.4%
                   value = [0.491, 0.503, 0.006, 0.0]
                                                          value = [0.03, 0.007, 0.963, 0.0]
                             class = normal
                                                                 class = node failure
```